

DON'T PAMPER YOUR STOMACH

Fear of Dyspepsia Robs the Entire System of Necessary Nutrient, Eat a Diversified Meal and With Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets You Will Avoid the Distress of Indigestion.

Just because the stomach sour with gasiness, heartburn, water-brash and such distresses after eating, is not a good reason for depriving the system of nourishment. Instead of indigestible and inartificial bran and skim milk try the better plan of eating what you like and follow your meals with Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. They digest food, they assist the stomach to secrete juices that keep the stomach sweet, active and with the alkaline effect, just as when the stomach is in perfect health. Nor is it necessary to discriminate. You may eat freely of onions, sausage, mince pie, and baked beans, or other dishes such as the average dyspeptic views with horror, and suffer no distress if you follow with Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. There is thus no need to fear any kind of food at any time or place, for with these tablets, you may prevent those distresses that formerly made you pamper your stomach as if it were a tender infant. You can get Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets in any drug store at 50 cents a box.

LIQUOR PROFITEERS TO BE PROSECUTED

Roper Puts Private Druggists In Class of Law Breakers.

Profiteering druggists who extort famine prices for liquor bought for the sick today were put in the class of lawbreakers by Commissioner Daniel C. Roper, of the Internal Revenue Bureau.

Commissioner Roper was so deeply incensed over reports that pharmacists who have permits to sell liquor on doctors' prescriptions, were buying liquor from wholesale druggists at $4 a gallon and peddling it out at a profit of 500 per cent and more, that he took steps to have such dealers prosecuted for profiteering.

Mr. Roper's first step in an attempt to curb the heartless element among drug vendors was the issuance of instructions to all physicians, officers to watch their sales closely to detect sales at unreasonable prices, and to report such instances promptly to the bureau for further action.

Instant Procedure. This action will take the form of instant procedure against the offenders for profiteering. Mr. Roper holds that a druggist who takes advantage of the sick to reap prices so manifestly unjust is by far more deserving of punishment than the grocer, who the clothier who is satisfied merely to collect a 100 or 200 per cent profit.

Attorney General Palmer's machinery will be used in such cases of profiteering that are deemed to be so flagrant as to be devoid of all moral or legal excuse. It was made plain also that in these cases as they arise, and many have already been reported for profiteering, the licenses of druggists may have their licenses revoked. The law also imposes severe penalties in the shape of heavy fines.

A considerable handicap has been placed upon patients securing necessary liquors, through unavoidable delays in the printing of blank forms to be filled out for the bureau's permanent record. Delay in the distribution of these blanks caused the bureau today to relax somewhat its rigid restrictions, and doctors were given permission to write prescriptions, given permission to write prescriptions, after they first have secured a permit to prescribe.

Whiskey Stops "Flu." Mr. Roper made this concession to doctors in order that liquor wherever it is deemed necessary may be used to check the epidemic of influenza in different parts of the country. Many doctors, holding that the "flu" is specific for the "flu" and more effective as a preventive than any other remedy, brought pressure for a more liberal construction of the regulations.

This does not mean that the bureau is letting down the bars permanently, for it took pains to announce that all doctors must have permits to prescribe, duly certified by the bureau before they can authorize the purchase of liquor. Under the new regulations physicians, as soon as they have secured their permit, are permitted to purchase outright six quarts of whiskey which they may hold in reserve for emergency uses.

Physicians have told the bureau that this ruling will allow them to care for many of the more acute cases they are now treating, and will be an aid in checking the spread of the "flu." Such liquor may be purchased from stocks which are held under the orders of the court, from seizure made for liquor violations.

FRENCH CHARGE BRITISH TRY TO STIR UP TROUBLE

PARIS, Jan. 30.—The semi-official newspaper, "Le Temps," charges the London Times with developing a campaign of false reports against the French in Syria. The newspaper specifically denies the Times' reports of serious conflicts between the French and Syrians at Liban.

"France is astonished at this campaign of false news which is aimed to discredit France's work in Syria," said "Le Temps." "It contrasts with the discretion observed by the French press regarding events in Egypt."

"Le Temps" further accuses British proteges of assuming an anti-French attitude in Morocco.

The Paris Midi comments in the same tone.

PROF. FARABEE TO TELL OF AMAZON EXPEDITION

Just back from explorations of the Amazon basin, Prof. William Curtis Farabee will tell of the results of the expedition, which was sent out by the University of Pennsylvania, before members of the National Geographic Society this afternoon and evening at the New Masonic Temple.

Prof. Farabee has discovered many new facts about the physical conformation and the animal and plant life in that least-known region of the western world. His talk will be illustrated by slides made from photographs brought back by the expedition which he directed.

LANSBURGH & BROTHER

BACKWARD

Many men, and not a few women, seem to want to rummage in the attic of the past—to look for old calendars out of use.

Lots of excellent people want to live in the past—to keep looking backward at the errors of yesterday.

To some, the days when the Queen of Sheba rolled and pitched on the hump of a prize camel are comparatively brighter than the days of the present with their Pullman service.

There seems to be a dramatic interest in this looking backward—backward to the days that left their lessons out of which we have created these better days.

Do not be deceived by the beautiful distance!

Who would go back to the tallow dip, the home-spun blouse, the long ago, except in sentiment?

This is a wonderful hour in which to live!

The mysterious chamber—the brain of man—is working night and day in every country and in every clime to make this store the Emporium for what you want.
